It is important that students check the University Policy Handbook for specific technology requirements for each course in which they enroll. Some courses may have different or additional requirements.

GENERAL INFORMATION:

All students must purchase textbooks and other materials for courses; these expenses are in addition to the tuition. This can include lab fees, course material fees, or testing fees within specific programs. Some courses will include electronic textbooks for which students will be charged a course materials fee.

The Grand Canyon University Policy Handbook does not establish a contractual relationship; rather, it sets forth academic and other requirements that students must meet to be granted a degree and, in some circumstances, to continue to be enrolled at the institution. While advisors and other Grand Canyon University personnel are available to guide students with respect to the requirements, students ultimately bear the responsibility of following the requirements.

Students should view the Academic Catalog for college and program specific information.

This program is not intended to lead to licensure or certification in Arizona or any other US state or territory.

Change of Program

If students choose to change their program of study, they will be required to move into the current version of the program. Credits may not transfer from one program to the other and additional coursework may be necessary.

Location and Professional Licensure

GCU is required to determine the location of distance education students, evidenced by a student's address. If you are considering relocating, or have relocated to another state, territory, or outside of the United States during your program, whether relocation is permanent or temporary, you must contact your Student Services Counselor immediately to determine whether your Program of Study is available in the new location and whether it will lead to professional licensure in the new location. Students must do this before incurring any/additional financial obligations. The new location may have additional requirements that would need to be completed in order to be eligible for certification or licensure. Students are expected to conduct all field placements, practicum, or student teaching within the state in which they are located at the time of enrollment. Students who seek to conduct field placements, practicum, or student teaching in a state other than the state in which they are located, or who intend to seek licensure in a different state, must disclose this to their Student Services Counselor to determine whether field placement or licensure is possible in the desired location. In addition, GCU encourages students to contact their state licensure board to ensure the program will meet their needs.

Interstate Moves

GCU is required to determine the location of distance education students, evidenced by a student's address. If you are considering relocating or have relocated to another state or outside of the United States during your program, whether relocation is permanent or temporary, you must contact your Student Services Counselor immediately to determine whether your Program of Study is available in the new location.

International Military Field Placements

Military students who are located outside of the United States who are enrolled in programs that contain field placements must complete all placements on a base or at a Department of Defense approved location. Students are advised to contact a Field Experience Counselor to determine whether field experience can be completed. Students who cannot complete field placements on a base or in a DOD-approved location may be required to take a leave of absence until they return to a location at which placements are allowed.

Data Use Disclosure

Random samples of data (classroom curriculum projects, workshop evaluations, surveys, tests, and observations) may be selected, stripped of identifiers, and used as part of aggregate data to inform institutional effectiveness. Such samples will not be attributed to an individual student nor will the data influence grade or class standing.

University and Program Technology Requirements

Please refer to the University Policy Handbook for technology requirements.

Sales/Use/Excise/Gross Receipts Taxes

It is the policy of the University to collect and remit sales, use, excise and/or gross receipts taxes in compliance with state and local taxing jurisdiction regulations which require the University to remit tax where applicable. These regulations vary by location. Please note: It is also the policy of the University to require payment of sales, use, excise, and/or gross receipts tax. Payment of tax is ultimately the student's financial responsibility to the University regardless of financing arrangements.

I understand and agree that all University programs follow a Program of Study, which can be changed by the University at any time, and I grant permission for continuous enrollment and scheduling in a Program of Study, unless I officially withdraw from the University or request a formal leave of absence. I further understand and agree that all Programs of Study are subject to the terms, conditions, and policies outlined in the University's enrollment application and the University's Policy Handbook.

FINANCIAL AID APPLICATION PROCEDURES

If you choose financial aid as a method of payment, you must complete and submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Complete the FAFSA online at fafsa.ed.gov. Indicate your intent to attend Grand Canyon University on the FAFSA by using our six-digit school code (001074).

Completion of the FAFSA is the first step in determining your eligibility for federal grants, loans and student employment. Once your financial aid application has been processed, an award letter will be presented on your GCU Student Portal.

If you have any questions or concerns regarding the financial aid process, contact GCU's Office of Financial Aid at financialaid@gcu.edu or by phone 800-800-9776.

Complete your FAFSA as soon as possible to ensure availability of financial aid to meet your expenses of attending GCU.
